

UiO : CEMO – Centre for Educational Measurement University of Oslo

SAVE THE DATE: FIRST “FRONTIERS IN EDUCATIONAL MEASUREMENT” CONFERENCE

Frontiers in Educational Measurement is a new biennial conference organized by the Centre for Educational Measurement at the University of Oslo to collate the scientific community of educational measurement researchers. The conference starts up in 2018.

The two-day conference showcases methodological advances and the latest research related to four strands:

- Modern Test Design: Optimal test assembly, automatic item generation (AIT), and computerized adaptive testing (CAT)
- Psychometric modeling: Advances in modeling complex traits, processes, and test formats.
- Comparative Measurement: Methods, models, and issues on between- and within-subject comparisons.
- Innovative Assessment: Challenges for and case studies of the next generation of assessment systems.

Each day of the conference will be book-ended by keynote speakers. The four confirmed speakers are:

Alina von Davier

Harvey Goldstein

Hua-Hua Chang

Dylan Molenaar

- Alina von Davier, ACTNext, Iowa, USA
- Harvey Goldstein, University of Bristol, UK
- Hua-Hua Chang, University of Illinois, USA
- Dylan Molenaar, University of Amsterdam, The Netherlands

In addition, a plenary session about the relation of Educational Measurement and Educational Theory will take place with representatives from educational theory, policy research, applied research, educational measurement, psychometrics and statistics.

The conference takes place at Forskningsparken, University of Oslo, Norway, and it will include a pre-conference workshop, a pre-conference reception, and a conference dinner (included in the conference fees).
